About One Hen, Inc:

One Hen, Inc. a 501(c)3 organization, creates educational programs that teach elementary school children about world issues and how they can make a difference. Our mission is to help children become global citizens who succeed in school and beyond and marry that success to helping others, by instilling in them the values of financial responsibility, personal initiative, global awareness and giving back.

One Hen equips teachers and educational networks with educational programs that bring world issues into the classroom and allow children to learn, play and make a difference for others and themselves. Current programs include:

One Hen: Microfinance for Kids introduces children to microfinance and entrepreneurship and The Good Garden: Food Security for Kids teaches them about food security and sustainable agriculture. Each program includes a book, website and teaching modules, integrated into classroom teaching or run as stand alone after-school, club or summer enrichment curriculum.

One Hen Impact

In 2009, One Hen piloted web and classroom based programs in New York, Boston, North Carolina. Testing showed 30%-40% gains in students' confidence in business building and belief in giving back to community. In 2010 we scaled our summer program growing from 100 children in three sites in one city to five cities and over 2000 children in six cities, New York, Boston, Baltimore, Augusta and Detroit and San Francisco. In addition teachers in 50 states and 131 countries self serve by downloading lesson plans from our websites and using book resources in their teaching.
