

Share Your One Hen Experience Blog

The "Share Your One Hen Experience" contains user generated post from kids and teachers across the globe who are sharing their thoughts and experiences from the One Hen story and interactive website.

Examples of some of the postings from children and teachers are included below:

Will, Grade 2, Scituate

I think the book One Hen is a great book. It teaches little kids about how poor people are in Africa. I think Kojo was a great kid. This book is beyond an ordinary story. It's one of the best! This website is really great. I will make a difference. And I promise. Your friend Will Abubakari, 11 years old, Ghana.

I attend F.D. Roosevelt Public School in London, Ontario. I think your book "One Hen" is special because I am from the same country and lived in the same areas, Accra and Kumasi. The pictures made me remember about home and made me proud of my home. The book is so special that I have memorized it in my mind. I have told a lot of teachers about the book and the story. I have shared about what life is like in Ghana and I think that you know a lot about it. Thank you. I wanted you to know that your book is very powerful to me.

Ally, Grade 4

I started to visit one hen everyday after I heard the story. I love donating to the kids that are less fortune than me. Best wishes and thoughts.

Mrs. White, Grade k5, Dorchester

Hi, I am so proud of the work that the One Hen organization is do ing. I commend you for helping us teach our students how to give selflessly and enjoy it. The lesson they learn will stick with them for a lifetime. The EEKCC is dedicated to making an impact. Students refer to themselves as philanthropist, I Love my Job!

Josefina

Hi! my class is trying to make a difference in the world in some way. We are in AIG reading so we might do a read-a -thon so people give us money if we read alot!!

Olivia, Port Washington

The website is doing very good things for other people while we are having fun. Don't forget to share you beads once you've played.

Emily, Grade 3, Sault Ste. Marie

I think one hen is a very good book and makes a difference in the world. Giving and helping make me feel good. I am a real agent of change now. I'm making the world a better place to be and so is everyone else playing games on this website

Linh, Grade 5, Boston

Hi! My name is Linh. I am attending a program named Bell. In this program we have a class called One Hen. In this class I learn that just by one small loan it made a difference. Also in my class, my teacher called Mr. Parnell is very nice. I then just wanted to say that I love this book.

Tajae, Grade 5, Boston

I love this program because I love helping people that don't have nothing like me and one hen program help me gain trust in my self and other people that's way I am starting to help my community for now on and telling my friends and family about it so they can start helping out to and give to others that need help.

Valery, Grade 11, Port Washington NY

Your book rocks to inspire kids to make a big change in the world

Jennie, Grade 5, Winnipeg

I read the book today and it really inspired me.I'm hoping that everyone receives the loan will be grateful and happy!!!!

Cole, Grade K, Seattle, WA, USA

My favorite game is the fishing game. My Mom and I caught 23 fish! We're so happy to be helping him buy his boat so he can catch more fish, too. Hi, Kojo!
Congratulations

Isis, Grade 4, VA

I love the story one hen it is very touching and inspiring.
Caring is a good thing it helps people in need of help. I like helping and caring. I encourage other people to read one hen.

Micaela & Maria, Grade 4, Canton Ma, JFK

I absolutely love one hen!!! My class made beads and we sold them at the winter fling and the fifth grade play!!!! Thanks for the idea of making beads to help people with there life!!!

Ms. Landin's Class, Grade K, Sugar Land, Texas

We just learned about onehen.org and we are so excited to get started. In our class we think it's best to treat others the way you want to be treated. This is a great way to start!!

Cothmetic Blanco, Grade 8, South Africa

This is a stupendous book I love it. It was exquisite and awesome it is thoughtful and Considerate and lovely and beautiful and sweet and loving and caring.

Kristi, Buckman School, Portland Oregon

Dear Kojo, Thank you for sharing your story- my students in Portland, Oregon are learning about ways we can make a difference- even as kids. Your book was a great place to start learning about ways we can help the world, we also love the website!

ERNESTO, Grade 4, MEXICO

Dear Kojo, I like your book of One Hen. We know you're for real I like your family. It's so great our classroom read your book. It's cool that you know how to speak African language. You're awesome.

Emily and Allegra, Grade 5, Toronto

I read your book at SunnyBrook School and I thought that the book really inspired me and now I really want to help make a difference. Thank you for such a great story Katie Milway!

Issy, Grade 3, Ho-Ho-Kus New Jersey

I loved this book because it taught me so much about Ghana! So it felt like I was right beside the story reader every time he or she was reading I to me. Thank you so much.

Heidi & Rachel, Grade 4, Gresham, Oregon

Dear Kojo, when my teacher read the class the book one hen, I thought that it was one of the best books I have ever read! I thought the story itself was great, not to mention the experience. I loved the book, the website and all of the pictures! You are a great inspiration and I hope I will learn from what you did. Love Heidi Rachel

Joanna, Grade 3, Oak Park, IL

I made a fishing game for my friends and we gave beads to my friends to raise money to make loans. I like the fishing game.

Victoria, Grade 4 ,Italy, Sicily

Kojo must have lot's of fun working on his hen farm well I REALLY HATE doing MY chores, but when I'm on a farm there's a REALLY BIG difference.

Daniell, Grade 5B, Sydney NS

Our school is donating lots of money to your foundation instead of buying Christmas gifts for our teachers. We really liked the book one hen and I hope you all have a great Christmas.

Michelle Hewitt, Teacher

As a school we went onto the One Hen website today to earn beads as the start of our own microfinancing project. We earned over 13,000 beads. I read the book and passed it on to my colleagues. Every class then had the book read to them on Monday, which is also Harmony Day in our school district and dedicated to diversity, we did our marathon bead collection. I also have some fundraising going on with my leadership students, and then they're going to do some of their own micro financing, perhaps through Kiva.

Julia, Grade 4, jfk

I love One Hen because you get to help by giving microfinancing money or loans to people that need money to survive or live or to install a door or maybe even a window.

Mackenzie, Grade 3, Canada. Ontario

Hi my name is Mackenzie and I think the story of the one hen is like magnificent. Kojo must of had alot of common sense to have a small lone and then it started to get bigger and bigger and more hens!

Aloysius, Grade 7, Canoga Park

I am in seventh grade, but it seems to me that to be successful you have to work hard and persevere, just like the people who try to grow their business=^..^
