

The One Hen team is pleased to announce that Elizabeth Perdue, a Chicago lawyer and chair of the Women's Opportunity Network at microfinance agency Opportunity International, has joined the One Hen Board as a director. Elizabeth is a partner in the law firm of Morgan Lewis & Bockius. Ms. Perdue joins founding board members; Katie Smith Milway, partner at The Bridgespan Group and One Hen Board Director, Monique Muri, CEO, RAM Scientific, Co-founder and President, One Hen, Inc. Board of Directors, Dan Barnicle, Senior Vice President, Sapient Inc., Vice President, One Hen, Inc. Board of Directors and Eric Hogue, VP, Strategic Services, Millward Brown; Secretary/Treasurer, One Hen, Inc. The One Hen Team sincerely appreciates their dedication and leadership in our mission to inspire children to personal initiative, financial responsibility, global awareness and giving back.

One Hen Leadership Biographies

One Hen, Inc. Board of Directors

Dan Barnicle – Senior Vice President, Sapient Inc., Vice President, One Hen, Inc. Board of Directors and co-founder of www.onehen.org. Dan Barnicle is Content Management & Collaboration Practice lead for Sapient, a leading global interactive and consulting services firm. He is responsible for developing and driving Sapient's expertise and business within the content management & collaboration space by combining deep business analysis, user-centered design methodology and technology expertise. He took www.onehen.org on as a pro-bono project in the fall of 2007, attracting creative studio volunteers to the cause.

Eric Hogue – VP, Strategic Services, Millward Brown; Secretary/Treasurer, One Hen, Inc. Eric is a senior strategist and marketing scientist with Millward Brown, a marketing research company that provides strategic branding advice to 80 of the top 100 global brands. Eric leads Millward Brown North America's portfolio of strategic branding methodologies and consults on a regular basis with management in financial services, technology, consumer packaged goods and automotive. He received his graduate degree in business from Vanderbilt University. Eric co-founded ARCA Partners, a nonprofit foundation that puts new media in the service of international development.

Katie Smith Milway – Partner, The Bridgespan Group, One Hen, Inc. Co-Founder, Board Director and Author, One Hen: How One Small Loan Made a Big Difference. Prior to moving to Bridgespan in 2008, Katie served as editorial director and founding publisher at Bain & Co. Katie co-founded www.onehen.org with Sapient Interactive, the pro bono effort that gave rise to One Hen, Inc. A graduate of Stanford University and INSEAD, Katie spent a decade working in and around a dozen countries in Africa on sustainable development projects, including village banking, food security, primary health care, water resourcing and education with organizations such as Food for the Hungry, World Relief and World Vision.

Monique Muri – CEO, RAM Scientific, Co-founder and Chairman/President, One Hen, Inc. Board of Directors. She is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University and INSEAD. Monique served on several boards including the Young Entrepreneurs' Organization and the Kauffman Foundation's Center for Entrepreneurial Leadership Alliance with YEO.

Elizabeth Perdue –Partner in the law firm of Morgan Lewis & Bockius, with a focus on mergers, acquisitions and finance. Betsy is actively involved with Opportunity International (OI), serving on their Board of Directors. She is also chair of the Women's Opportunity Network. Opportunity is a non-profit microfinance organization that helps poor entrepreneurs (primarily women) in developing countries help themselves by providing them with small business loans, as well as business and leadership training, savings, and insurance. Ms. Perdue received her J.D. from the University of Chicago in 1982 and her B.A. from Pomona College in 1976. She is passionate about empowering the next generation of entrepreneurs to make a difference.